

Threats and smearing campaign against Ms. Jelena Milic CEAS director by convicted war criminal and Srebrenica genocide denier and mercenary currently on trial for killing of two Albanians in 1999

The center for Euro-Atlantic Studies from Belgrade, Serbia (CEAS) would like to bring to your attention the latest examples of threats and a smearing campaign against CEAS and in particular its director Ms. Jelena Milic. The threats to Ms. Milic's life, and accompanying campaign that, as CEAS has already reported, could be termed "vilify and amplify", have been going on continuously for three years, with obvious support from Serbian media that are both pro-government and pro-Kremlin, and without any institutional response despite numerous charges that CEAS and Jelena Milic have been filing against known perpetrators. One of these charges was filed against Nemanja Ristic, a person sought by Interpol on a warrant issued by the Government of Montenegro for his role in the 2016 attempted coup in that country. Ristic threatened Ms. Milic that she would be tried for grave offences (such as treason, heroin distribution), though not in regular court proceedings but under summary justice. These cases have been pending for several years to no avail, as judiciary institutions are not acting upon them. CEAS' legal representatives consider that on several occasions, State judiciary, human rights and anti-discrimination institutions were obliged to act even without the charges filed by Ms. Milic and CEAS seeking legal protection. Cases against media do get processed, but when convicted, sanctions are usually minor – financial – and do not serve the purpose of deterring such actions from happening again.

The fact that CEAS is engaged in the most sensitive issues in Serbia, issues that cause Serbian media's significant "post-production" in terms of attacks, smears, fallacies and bold threats in the comments – such as war crimes and their impunity, security, Serbia's relationship with NATO, advocacy for Serbia's full membership, debate on the reason for NATO's bombing, the number of its victims, countering the fake narrative about the effects of the use of depleted uranium, the issue of Kosovo and the malign Russian influence – should not be an excuse for the lack of a genuine response.

We note that Ms. Milic was offered police protection a few years ago, though inefficient one that put her in a position similar to home imprisonment. In a reaction to the police failing to respond to the calls of citizens who reported the illegal demolishing of their property in Belgrade's neighborhood of Savamala in 2016, she declined further police protection. Savamala case is explicitly mentioned in the Resolution of the European Parliament of June 14, 2017 related to the Commission's Report on Serbia for 2016. It was also referred in the call to Serbia's authorities to respect the rule of law and address cases of excessive use of power by police against citizens. The investigation of the case of Savamala has not advanced from the preliminary phase.

According to our insights, the U.S. Department of State (Bureau of Democracy, Human Rights and Labor) Country Report on Human Rights Practices in Serbia for 2016 is the only one referring to the case of threats against Jelena Milic and CEAS.

Most recently, Ms. Milic is under constant attacks by the convicted war criminal Vojislav Seselj, head of the Serbian Radical Party and member of the Serbian Parliament. The Appeals Chamber of the Mechanism for International Criminal Tribunals (MICT) announced its ruling in the proceedings against Vojislav Seselj in April 2018. He was found guilty and sentenced to ten years in prison on the counts of the indictment referring to expulsions of ethnic Croats from Hrtkovci in the 1990s. Unfortunately, women's rights organizations, progressive media outlets and state institutions in charge of protecting equality and human rights failed to even comment on his latest sexist statements alleging that Ms. Milic has contracted crabs in her contacts with NATO, or that she is dying from syphilis. The comments, without a proper response by the presenting host, were made on a television show aired by Happy TV, a channel with national coverage whose frequency is public property.

The same television channel recently hosted Jugoslav Petrusic, a controversial Serbian mercenary and major of the Yugoslav Army during the war in Kosovo in 1999, currently on trial for killing two Albanians during this conflict. CEAS suspects that his attack has been triggered by CEAS' and Ms. Milic's constant reporting on the tainted war track record, documented by prominent non-governmental organization, the Humanitarian Law Center in its Dossier Dikovic about the recently retired Serbian Army Chief of Staff Ljubisa Dikovic, since CEAS has never mentioned or dealt with Petrusic's activities. Over the past few years, Petrusic got involved in active denial of the genocide in Srebrenica, along with the controversial Swiss journalist Alexander Dorin, among others. Bearing in mind the dire circumstances concerning Petrusic and Dikovic, CEAS considers that the statement that "Ms. Milic's findings represent a threat to the Republic of Serbia and to all of its relevant institutions" should not go unnoticed and unaddressed.

We would like to highlight that the systematic campaign to "vilify and amplify" – including severe threats to Ms. Milic's life by known perpetrators with very compromised backgrounds, and by the army of internet trolls that happens each time Ms. Milic appears in the media, as well as the "post-production" in certain print media with heavy smearing – affects our day-to-day work, as its documenting is time-consuming and the legal fees are high and mostly not covered by our projects' budgets. Last but not the least, it affects the reputation of our work and our ability to realize the projects as planned by the proposals, and to apply for future grants.

Thank you for your attention.

We are available for any further clarifications.

Sincerely,

CEAS team

Transcript of a statement by Vojislav Seselj - program “Dobro jutro Srbijo” (Good Morning Serbia) - TV Happy August 15, 2018

Irina: Yesterday our guest presenter was Jelena Milic and while we were saying goodbye, I told her that in this chair, tomorrow, Vojislav Seselj will be sitting and my question now is why do you not sit here, so that we can be a presenting couple, instead, I feel like you are a guest in the program.

Seselj: Really, this is no joke. The weather disturbances are horrendous. First enormous heat, excess humidity in the air, all sorts of different insects appearing and a man cannot defend himself from them. I am a little bit worried about the chair where Jelena Milic used to sit, you know that she is a NATO promoter, she socializes with those NATO officers, but NATO is now producing biological weapons that will be difficult to trace. They will not be biological weapons causing the plague, cholera, smallpox or some other serious illness like typhus. They are now producing new types of lice and among them also crabs. NATO crabs are a serious, dangerous thing and there is no way to get rid of them.

Irina: I have to tell you, Jelena Milic has mentioned you three or four times yesterday, saying that you do not have the basic respect for women that you even hate them, and I stood in your defense the whole time and now you mention the chair and these lice...

Seselj: First of all I do not see a woman in her, I see a NATO commando. She has admitted that she does not have a single tooth of her own. Do you know how she had lost her teeth?

Irina: She says she had a problem. I do not want to go into this.

Seselj: Yes she did have a problem. It was again some NATO production, you know, she has allowed that live organisms get introduced into her mouth and they corrode the dental glaze, this is how her teeth got ruined.

Transcript of a statement by Jugoslav Petrusic: Jugoslav Petrusic on Jelena Milic, threats directed to her and the connection to terrorists – program “Dobro jutro Srbijo” (Good Morning Serbia) - TV Happy October 5, 2018

Petrusic: I do not know if you will allow it and if it is appropriate for me to say here, but I was irritated by the way Ms. Jelena Milic acted in the sense that...

Maric: Attacking her is forbidden...

Petrusic: No, I am not attacking her. This has nothing to do with an attack. I just want to take notice that she is not intellectually mature enough to talk about the NATO system. That is, of anything concerning such a global, huge system. She does not know what is connected to the connection between, that is, here I am not talking about any personal conflict, I am talking about her technical and elementary knowledge connected to what she has done. The way she presents...

Maric: She claims to have completed military service unlike many political and military analysts.

Petrusic: Not in those terms, here is why I wanted to make a statement related to her, and even the fact that she is not eloquent enough or competent enough for anything related to NATO instruments, or rather NATO's system or anything that could represent any connection to Serbia. First of all, NATO's system is never functional within itself, it allows anything and those countries perform some exercises together. They do it experimentally, or rather to sell the weapons and many other things with which she is not familiar. Therefore we have there some technical espionage, the way these people behave, and those countries that they need to win over for themselves do it for economic reasons, these are their future buyers for everything they produce together. Their unity is based primarily on the economy and only after that on the defense system. And I need not speak in detail about policies and so on. I don't want to go deeper into how much and in what way is she dealing with this and why is she dealing with this, these things can happen here in Serbia and I am sorry that eloquent and relevant factors here do not come out, those in Serbia who really know the fact of the matter best and why don't they prevent Ms. Jelena Milic from saying stupid things related to the whole system. But that was not the thing that bothered me the most, it was when I accidentally got the information that Ms. Jelena Milic and the Humanitarian Law Fund, that they have on July fourth, eight of 2016 sent an open letter to the officials of the European Union and of the United States about failures of the local processing of war crimes, including the case of the murder of the Biticis. The letter was signed by almost 40 experts with official experience in working in state or academic institutions and the civil society in the Balkans. They have sent this to the House of Representatives...

Marić: So Bitici case is being produced in Serbia?

Jugoslav: No, no, no, no... That is even not too important, she has gone to the House of Representatives of the American Senate, as a private person, she has never been... Here she has spoken notorious lies that she has visited State Department officially, she started making public threats. This is what is asked in their letter, in which they present themselves falsely as experts for war... I mean they present themselves falsely as experts for war crimes. Ms. Jelena Milic, Ms. Natasa Kandic, and Ms. Milica Kostic. I mean 40 of them have signed. What do they want? Since July 8, 2016 they are asking for the arrest of all representatives of the highest authorities in the Republic of Serbia since the year 2000, since the year

1990 up till today. All the officers of the security forces, I mean police, Ministry of Interior, state security service, Security and intelligence agency, should be arrested. Allegedly, in Serbia no one was ever brought to justice on war crimes charges. I want to stress that this organization headed by them took part in 464 different crimes and that they have committed forgery, fraud, deception of the social community of the Republic of Serbia, and today they constitutionally serve a system which is hostile towards us and is so when our country is in the most difficult situation, when we have barely managed to make some sort of contact with the U.S. where their administration is slowly allowing us to breathe, she presents to the Albanians the national, I mean she is endangering the national security of the United States. Actually with the Americans in New York like Eliot Engel and many others. I mean she has put herself on the side of the terrorist organization in New York which is working for a longer period of time against the president of America and its security forces with the intent to carry the whole story to the field... And she comes here to freely threaten with things she is not qualified for nor does she have the right to do so. If she has been in the State Department officially, then America really should not exist anymore. If Jelena Milic could have talked, representing a non-governmental organization, about most difficult issues that burden the territory of the Socialist Federative Republic of Yugoslavia where close to one hundred thousand people were killed, where four million people got displaced, where many people have suffered and where the thing that happened has happened... and by this I do not wish to offend her in any way. I just kindly invite her when she is able to and when she wants to, to have a duel with me with documents so that she can pull back in a relevant way from her statements that threaten the Republic of Serbia or rather all relevant institutions, and especially general Ljubisa Dikovic because he represents part of the Pritina Corps which means that his name is not Ljubisa Dikovic, but his name is what he is called by the post he is holding and only then can he be called by his name and surname because he represented a part of the system, and they are calling him personally.

Maric: No, they are acting as if it was them who dismissed Ljubisa Dikovic and that their campaign against him, which lasted for years, is now finally getting an epilogue that they had wanted...

Petrusic: Yes, they have also prepared the continuation. They have made a new book about the Yugoslav People's Army, they claim...

Maric: Who is next in line for being dismissed?

Petrusic: Next in line for being dismissed is the Yugoslav Army Deputy Chief of Staff, I say dismissed, but actually attacked. I mean they have prepared it to be seen through a prism, through the prism of the book made against the Yugoslav People's Army, claiming paramilitary units of the army of the Republic of Serbia have kidnapped the military in 1991 in order to commit crimes in Croatia, then kidnaped the army of Bosnia and Herzegovina and committed crimes in Bosnia, then kidnapped Kosovo's army and committed crimes down there. These grave accusations are ridiculous.

Maric: We will organize a duel with dese documents, so this is all for the moment.

This frustrated crazy Milic lady should be getting treatment for her trauma in some clinic, since her husband was beating her systematically. It is a lie that she had lost her teeth because of stress. She was picking up her teeth from the floor because of her ex-husband. And she should leave the people in peace. It is not the people's fault that she married an insane man. They are all the same, they would do anything for the money. Those like her should get their teeth punched out.
